EXPLORING THE DEPTH OF THE ONE AND ONLY

SIR ANTHONY

PHILLIP WOLMARANS OF MOTION STORY, PRODUCER OF OFFICE INVASION, THE LIKES OF "JONGO & SHADOW" SAYS: WHAT TRULY SETS ANTHONY APART FROM THE REST IS HIS GENEROSITY IN THE CREATIVE PROCESS. WHEN HE GETS ONTO SET, HE MAKES EVERYONE FEEL VALUED AND INSPIRED TO PUSH THEIR LIMITS.

BEYOND HIS TALENT, ANTHONY ALSO HAS A WONDERFUL SENSE OF HUMOUR WHICH MAKE EVEN THE MOST CHALLENGING DAYS ENJOYABLE.

WORKING WITH HIM HAS BEEN AN UNFORGETTABLE EXPERIENCE FILLED WITH LAUGHTER AND CAMARADERIE AND I FEEL PRIVILEGED TO HAVE WORKED WITH SUCH A REMARKABLE TALENT."

KHANATURAL

We've come to this conclusion : THE ONLY WAY TO GET TO KNOW ANTHONY OSEYEMI , IS ON A SET! A child of the world , an explorer, never stagnant!

This man of the soil , UK Born TALENT OF NOTE is a January man, we automatically ADORE him ! He later relocated to South Africa, and he received his BA degree in Performing Arts from the University of North London. He completed postgraduate studies in the UK.

I first met Anthony over 10 years ago , on set of an international commercial we were both in. He's a personality to behold ! Unforgettable. I remember saying to myself, I'd love to work with man again.

He's a ball of energy on any set, making everyone in his space feel at home. His good looks and talent take him all over the world making sure that all of us get a piece of him ! My dreams came true a few years later when he was back in South Africa , with a green Shake in his hand , towel in the other , as he was from a gym session ! He believes in training hard especially for his intense roles , his physical and mental health comes FIRST!

Together we shot an incredible series DEAD PLACES for Netflix & then later worked on an Amazon Prime series IN YOUR DREAMS with one of my fave production companies 'Motion Story' ! Phillip Wolmarans of Motion Story , producer of office invasion , the likes of Jonga & Shadow says : "What truly sets Anthony apart from the rest is his generosity in the creative process." !

THIS MAN CARRIES SO MUCH DEPTH ! WE BELIEVE HE IS THE WAY HE IS BECAUSE HE HAS LEARNED TO FIND BALANCE!

1. GOOD QUALITY FOOD IS NUMBER ONE "FOOD IS MEDICINE"
2. FAVOURITE JUICE : "CELERY JUICE"
3. WHAT HE HATES : "ADMIN"
4. ROUTINE : "TAKE WALKS , GRAB SUNSHINE, BREATHE AND STRETCH IN BETWEEN EVERYTHING YOU DO"
5. FOOD FOR THOUGHT : " QUESTION THINGS ! DON'T JUST ACCEPT THINGS WITHOUT FINDING THE TRUTH OR VALIDITY OF THEM! EDUCATE YOURSELF."

THE FOOD TABLE

Why "Healthy Food" is still unaffordable !

Let's Eat!

3 MAIN REASONS ACCORDING TO QUORA.COM

- Convenience : Healthy foods often require more preparation and planning than fast food or processed options, which can be time-consuming.
- Cost : Fresh fruits, vegetables, and whole foods can be more expensive than processed foods, making them less accessible for some people.
- Taste Preferences
- Lack of Knowledge

• GLOBAL in 2021, 42% of the global population, or more than 3.1 billion people, were unable to afford a healthy diet. This is still 134 million more people than in 2019, before the pandemic.

• AFRICA in 2021, 78% of the population in Africa was unable to afford a healthy diet, the highest proportion of any region.

• SOUTH AFRICA even though consumers in the lowest income brackets spend up to 35% of their budget on food, a healthy diet remains unaffordable for most.

EAT BETTER ON A BUDGET :

- PLANT PROTEIN: Pulses like beans, peas, and lentils are nutritious and inexpensive.
- FROZEN tinned, and dried fruits and vegetables: These are often cheaper than fresh produce but retain their nutrients and last longer.
- AVOID processed foods: You can often make similar dishes at home for less.

In this tight economy, what do you eat ? Do you make time to prepare & cook your food? Please share your ideas with our Khanatural readers !

"ONE TO WATCH" !!!

ACHUMA NTLOKO

Photographs by : Cornie Herbst,
Chanelle Jade & Jono Burns

He is Achuma Ntloko.
23 years old.
From the sunny East London, in the Eastern Cape.
He's a student studying Logistics and Supply Chain Management, an entrepreneur, and a high fashion model.

WHY ARE YOU ONE TO WATCH?

- I've always been confident in my looks, and my photogenic nature made it easy.
- I lean towards well-fitted cuts, neutral tones, and the athleisure aesthetic.
- Eren Legend is a major influence for me. He embodies the path I aspire to, ie. attending elite high-fashion shows, being an ambassador for big brands, and doing commercial ads and voiceovers.
- I focus on "quality." Whatever I do, I aim to perform it to the best of my ability and continuously seek improvement.
- I prefer photographic and runway modeling. I have a bold and unique walk for runway, but I'm also interested in exploring commercial photographic work in the future.

MY HOBBIES:

- I've developed a keen interest in logistics and transportation. I currently have a chauffeur service that I provide that gives me hands-on experience.
- My friends say I'm caring, thoughtful, confident, and blunt —what you see is what you get.

MY VALUES :

- I prioritise time for isolation, evaluate the situation, and most importantly, I find positivity and peace in knowing there is a lesson to be learned.
- SO ...
- If the house was burning and you could only save one thing, what would it be?
- It will obviously depend on the situation I'm in at the moment, but currently I'd definitely save the woman of my life.

THIS IS WHY WE LOVE ACHUMA !!!

Watch out for him !!!

THE OTHER SIDE ... of a health routine

by DAMBISA M

My name is Dambisa, and I am here to share the other side of a health routine. I hope my stories and views not only inspire you but also add some value to your life and those around you.

My friend Khabo is very much a health nut; she is the epitome of body transformation and body positivity. At times, as a lazy human being, I ask her, "Mara skhokho, do I really have to eat Seamoss every day?"

Now, let me let you in on a little secret. My laziness extends to literally everything I do outside of the work I get paid for. I don't understand why I must leave a face mask on for 20 minutes before washing it off. To me, that 20 minutes could be spent lying on the couch, basking in whatever else. Never mind the fact that skincare routines, healthy eating plans, and exercise programs are daunting. Last year (2023), I tried enrolling in a Kung Fu class. I went twice, and they told me about the consistency and discipline I needed to advance. For example, it takes 10 years to get to another level in the program.

I remember thinking to myself, Nah, this class is not for me. When I have to do something like this, I don't really see the benefits because, unlike my salary or how good I look to the naked eye, I wasn't built for 'struggle.'

Khabonina and I debate about this as often as I can remember. We are worlds apart when it comes to healthy living and lifestyle. What I can embrace is the fact that I truly believe her—but I am lazy. Our last conversation about this very topic took place at Olives and Plates. In our chat that day, I said, I am too lazy for all these programs. Eat two teaspoons of Seamoss a day, use turmeric soap before you shower, and so forth. I'm not even consistent in taking medication like antibiotics for seven days—what more a skincare or health routine?

Se put things in perspective very nicely. She said, "D, almost everyone is lazy, but it wouldn't hurt you to put your body first. These things aren't meant to be taken lightly. It's so that, while we are living, we live our best. Glowing skin gives us confidence, a healthy gut tackles your fupa problems, and my products are natural to help with that."

by DAMBISA M

My name is Dambisa, and I am here to share the other side of a health routine. I hope my stories and views not only inspire you but also add some value to your life and those around you.

My friend Khabo is very much a health nut; she is the epitome of body transformation and body positivity. At times, as a lazy human being, I ask her, "Mara skhokho, do I really have to eat Seamoss every day?"

Of course, I debated and argued my views on the matter. But after that, I decided to look at things from the other side of the coin. I took it upon myself to accept the benefits of all these processes and procedures. I accepted that, yes, I too want to look good with clear skin, and Lord knows how I envy people with flat stomachs—a flat stomach that I only have when I wake up, to add to that.

So how does a lazy person like me appreciate the daunting experience of trying to look and feel good? There's no solution other than deciding if you want those things or not. I am now seriously working on my gut health because yho, I am sick and tired of complaining about the same thing over and over again. It may take a lot out of me for sure, but I am certain that once the results start showing, I'll get my lazy @$$ to do a lot more for my body than I have so far.

Side note: being 36 years old is already a chore, and I feel like I shouldn't be adding so much to my plate. It's also harder to lose any form of weight, let alone motivating yourself to do the same thing repeatedly.

With that, welcome to the first of many 'The other Side of a Health Routine' segment for Khanatural magazine. We hope you will enjoy and share your views with us.

Your healthy space.

A plant in every room

Not only do indoor plants enhance the overall appearance of a space, but studies show they boost moods, increase creativity, reduce stress, and eliminate air pollutants—making for a healthier, happier you. Indoor plants don't just look good—they can make us feel good, too.
